

Attention! By clicking "Delete Account" below, you will start the process of deleting your Virtual Robot Account.

Deletion of this account will result in loss of ALL content associated with it, which may include the following:

- Any existing funds usable through this account
- Software, and items purchased via this Virtual Robot Account
- The ability to redownload any digital software purchased by / linked to this account
- Save/user data of any apps linked to this account

What is our process for account deletion?

After choosing to delete a Virtual Robot Account, it will be deactivated for 15 days before being deleted, during which time you can reactivate it by attempting to sign in. The account will be deleted permanently after the deactivation period passes.

To reactivate an account that has been set for deletion, you need the password and e-mail address you use to sign in to your account. If you haven't verified your e-mail address, you won't be able to retrieve your password if you forget it. Please verify your e-mail address in case you want to reactivate this account.

If you choose to reactivate an account during the deactivation period, we cannot guarantee that all of the data will be recovered.

Select "Delete Account" if you have read and understand the above information and still want to delete this account.